A member/owner responded to the SEC Board Meeting Reports with the following:

“Please allow me to suggest the SEC member/owner motto:

“IF YOU’RE NOT PISSED OFF, YOU’RE NOT PAYING ATTENTION!”

Seems that a lot of you are paying attention and pissed off. The actions of the board appear to be a last desperate gamble before the October elections replace them with member oriented trustees who will have the power to cast a bright light on the actions of the administration and contract with a lawyer who will help the corporation and the member/owners. Putting the meeting on a Wednesday afternoon is an attempt to limit the attendees to people in the Socorro area where their relatives and supporters can make up a quorum and vote in the trustees’ amendments and vote down the three member amendments passed at the 2012 Annual Members Meeting. For this reason there must be a high turnout of members who want reform and an end to behavior that is costing the corporation a lot of money. Will it be difficult? Yes, but attendance at this Annual Meeting and the October elections will assure an end to this board which treats the members with contempt. Plan to attend the Annual Meeting instead of boycotting it– and prevent further corruption.
